

GLENN BALL

DIRECTOR

With over 30 years senior experience, Glenn Ball has sustained a successful career at an executive level in operational service delivery and management reform. His career to date has involved leadership in senior executive roles across areas that include:

- Leadership development
- Organisational review and development
- Structural and cultural change advice and management
- Communications and marketing
- Strategic policy and program development
- Business and corporate planning.

As a founding Director of Executive Central, Glenn has a strong track record in working with senior teams of organisations to identify management issues and find solutions for change.

He has been instrumental in achieving strategic/cultural organisational change in a range of organisations across industries and executive levels. Glenn has also worked closely with senior Aboriginal leaders across a number of sectors in both individual and group leadership development programs.

Glenn has lifetime accreditation status with Human Synergistics International® to conduct leadership assessments using their Life Styles Inventory (LSI) and Leadership Impact (LI) tools and organisational reviews using, their Organisational Cultural Inventory and Organisational Effectiveness Inventory (OCI/OEI).

His corporate experience has included senior executive level positions as Executive Director.

- Strategic Services for Planning NSW, Director
- Corporate Service Improvement, and Director
- Performance Management and Development, both with NSW Department of Education and Training, as well as a senior role in the NSW Premier's Department.

Bringing with him a considered, practical and systematic approach to his work, Glenn's priorities are to produce decisive and implementable results. He is well-regarded among his peers and maintains a high-level network across government, industry and the non-government sector.

Complementing his specialised career, Glenn has a Masters of Management from the University of Technology, Sydney and a Masters of Science, Coaching Psychology from the University of Sydney.

Glenn is a visiting lecturer for the University of Sydney Business School, delivering the Coaching and Performance Management unit in the Masters of Business Administration (MBA) degree. He is a keen 'A' Grade tennis player, has an active family and social life, and is the current President of FRANS, a not-for-profit organisation providing people with disabilities and their families support and respite.

STRATEGY